Catherine Price, Ph.D., Assoc. Professor, CHP
Glenn E Smith, Ph.D., Professor, CHP

Prerequisites Must be a graduate student in good standing in Clinical and Health Psychology. All others must petition.

Course Overview and Objectives
This graduate seminar will provide exposure to some (among many) of the classic papers and concepts in neuropsychology and psychology. An emphasis will be placed on reading “primary sources” and thinking about the influence of these works on contemporary conceptualization. By no means is this exhaustive or representative of all the seminal papers in the field that have influenced the landscape of neuropsychology. The goals are to foster recognition of importance on historical antecedents of contemporary knowledge and to promote active discussion among class participants.

Course Materials
Readings are from articles (see below) that will be placed in a designated class folder on the class share-drive (P:\Classics in NP). Make sure you have access to this drive. If not, it is your responsibility to let me know so that you can be given access by the folks in IT.

Required Readings
Specific references are listed for each class date and these are available as PDF’s on the class projects drive, unless otherwise indicated.
Course Format

This course will be conducted in the form of a graduate seminar. This is not a ‘lecture’ course, and instead involves active discussion among graduate students in the class. Each class will have a faculty leader/discussant who will serve as a guide, but will not ‘lecture’ per se and will help provide a historical and contemporary context. Additionally, there will be two student leaders per class whose role is to construct thought questions to help lead the discussion.

Location and Times

Class will meet Fridays in Room 3170 of the HPNP building from 3:30 to 4:430. There are 2 exceptions, however. On Nov 17 and Dec 1, class will meet from 2:30-3:30. Please be on time.

Course Requirements, Evaluation, and Grading

Enrolled students are expected to attend weekly classes, complete weekly assigned readings and reaction papers prior to class and participate in integrative discussions during each class. The exception is class 1. Students will be pre-assigned in pairs to help co-lead integrative discussions. Each student will co-lead a discussion on 3 separate occasions.

Grades will be based on a weekly reaction paper (there are 12), a final reaction paper, and participation in the class discussion. Grades will be weighted according to the number of points available for each component, as described below. Final grades will be calculated as a percentage of the highest score. Evaluation in the course will be based on the following components:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reaction Papers</th>
<th>77%</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Class Participation</td>
<td>8%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Final Paper</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

1. Reaction Papers. For each class, you are required to write a reaction paper based on the readings assigned that week. The body of the paper will be your intellectual reaction to the content of the articles that you have read. There is no right/wrong with this exercise. It could include for example, your views on whether you think important, points of disagreement, what was confusing, etc. This should be your reaction and not that of others. There are a total of 12 reaction papers for the class. All are required and maximum credit for each is 7 points (i.e., \(11 \times 7 = 77\) points)

   - The reaction paper should range in length from 1-2 pages max, single spaced, with double spaces between each paragraph. The header should include Date, Topic and your name. All reaction papers are due Thursday by 9:00 PM. They are to be emailed to Dr. Bowers at dawnbowers@phhp.ufl.edu.

   - Each paper is assigned 7 points. Make sure you proofread for spelling, grammar, etc. There is no makeup. If you miss the Thursday 9 PM deadline, but you get the paper in by noon on Friday, the maximum number of points you can receive is 3.5.

2. Final Exam Reaction Paper will comprise up to 15% of your grade. It will be a second level reaction paper, in which you are to consider all the topics covered in this class and identify 1 or perhaps 2 that you found most intellectually interesting and relevant to your interests at this point in time. You will justify and explain why. This ‘reaction paper’ should be single space typed, with double spacing between each paragraph. It should range in length from 2-4 pages MAX. Remember that more is not necessarily better. You can incorporate some recent literature (no more than 3 references) to justify points you want to make, but truly this is not a review paper, and should focus more on your thinking of issues and concepts. If you do cite literature (and again not required), include references using APA style.

3. Class Participation involves 2 components and will comprise 8% of the grade. First, students are assigned to co-lead integrative discussions. An individual student will co-lead class on 3 different occasions, with different pairings of co-leaders over the course of the classes. What does this entail? The goal of the co-leaders is to help foster discussion. With that in mind, you could identify key points or questions from the readings that you think important as an aide to facilitate discussion. The role of the Faculty leader is to provide an historical context and help moderate the discussion. The faculty will not be lecturing. Second, students who are not assigned co-leaders are expected to be active participants in the day’s discussion.

Grading

Scores will be rounded to the nearest percent (rounded up or down, whichever is closest) for grade determination in accordance with the grading table below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>% of points earned</th>
<th>93%–100%</th>
<th>90%–92%</th>
<th>87%–89%</th>
<th>83%–86%</th>
<th>80%–82%</th>
<th>77%–79%</th>
<th>73%–76%</th>
<th>70%–72%</th>
<th>67%–69%</th>
<th>63%–66%</th>
<th>60%–62%</th>
<th>Below 60%</th>

For greater detail on the meaning of letter grades and university policies related to them, see the Registrar's Grade Policy regulations at http://www.registrar.ufl.edu/catalog/policies/regulationgrades.html

Policy Related to Class Attendance

Attendance and class participation is required. Students needing to miss class for personal or professional reasons should consult with Dr. Bowers prior to the date on which they will be unable to attend. Students will still be required to complete the weekly assignment by the deadline.

Statement of University's Honesty Policy (cheating and use of copyrighted materials)

Students are expected to act in accordance with the University of Florida policy on academic integrity (see Student Conduct Code, the Graduate Student Handbook or this web site for more details: www.dso.ufl.edu/judicial/procedures/academicguide.php). Cheating, lying, misrepresentation, or plagiarism in any form is unacceptable and inexcusable behavior.

We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Policy Related to Make-up Papers

Students are expected to complete assigned readings and reaction papers by Thursday 8:00 PM. Personal issues with respect to class attendance or fulfillment of course requirements will be handled on an individual basis. Students must make prior arrangements with Dr. Bowers if they must miss any class. Reaction papers will still be required by the deadline, except for an emergency situation (i.e., death in family, serious illness, etc.) If a student misses the Thursday PM deadline, but gets the paper in by noon on Friday, the maximum number of points that can be received is 3.5.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

If you require classroom accommodation because of a disability, you must first register with the Dean of Students Office (http://oss.ufl.edu/). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to you, which you then give to the instructor when requesting accommodation. The College is committed to providing reasonable accommodations to assist students in their coursework.

Counseling and Student Health

Students may occasionally have personal issues that arise in the course of pursuing higher education or that may interfere with their academic performance. If you find yourself facing problems affecting your coursework, you are encouraged to talk with an instructor and to seek confidential assistance at the University of Florida Counseling Center, 352-392-1575, or Student Mental Health Services, 352-392-1171. Visit their web sites for more information: http://www.counsel.ufl.edu/ or http://www.health.ufl.edu/shcc/smhs/index.htm#urgent

The Student Health Care Center at Shands is a satellite clinic of the main Student Health Care Center located on Fletcher Drive on campus. Student Health at Shands offers a variety of clinical services, including primary care, women's health care, immunizations, mental health care, and pharmacy services. The clinic is located on the second floor of the Dental Tower in the Health Science Center. For more information, contact the clinic at 392-0627 or check out the web site at: www.health.ufl.edu/shcc.
